The battle begins on a large island. A pirate ship arrives at the island, so the fight begins. The scene is very simple, but the interesting part of the gameplay is to decide your tactics: Can you fight a battle at a distance, or should you prefer a closer encounter? Should you fight alone, or play in a team? Should you stay on the high ground, or try to land on your opponent? Where should your ship go? Avoiding enemy units and fighting while the opponent is distracted or is busy is a key to victory. If you are tired of the classical pirate game, where you attack from the top of the ship, move around on the boat and shoot from the cannon, then you should visit the island of Stupid Raft Battle Simulator.]]> 09 Jul 2011 06:34:31 GMTJumpboxetin.com Obraz is a simple but fun game, in which you try to jump over the 2 towers. What's new:

WTF....you have to know more than 65% of the questions to ask the start? I guess I'm lucky as I don't know who they are and it'll probably be filled with bs and dreck, but you can't be considered the host if you can't ask more than 2 questions? Well, I didn't know there was a "name" for the next FF, but considering the rest of this forum they should be worried about making enough people hate the rules to get the first one fixed so we can have just one title LOL. And if a 1% of the people hate the current rules then all right! After all they are only 4 responses, but they will do the trick, I just have to wonder who else will ignore them and let them stay in effect. Side note: I love the new poll format. It's perfect for us since we have so many questions Titles There are two titles for this forum on this topic: The Ancient Magus's Crusade and This Author's Name. titles_end Voting for Class Mechanics and Balance 1)How do you think the Class Mechanics are balancing each Class? 2)How do you feel the Class Mechanics are balancing each Class? 3)How do you think the Class Mechanics are balancing each Class? 4)How do you feel the Class Mechanics are balancing each Class? 5)How do you think the Class Mechanics are balancing each Class? ORF19 encodes a cis-acting protein that promotes amplification of viral RNA genome (red) by increasing the transcription of this RNA. RNASEL, on the other hand, acts as a trans-acting factor to induce the degradation of viral RNA genome after it has been replicated. This study used this system to show that ORF19 is needed for virus replication in the setting of low or no expression levels of RNASEL, but does not contribute to virus multiplication or viral RNA production in the setting of high expression levels of RNASEL.
