If you enjoyed "Wing Commander" or more recently "Command & Conquer" games then "Retro Toasters" is for you! This game will allow you to relive your youth by turning the clock back to when PONG hit home computers and games like "Enemy Mine" were in their prime. If you like classic 2d arcade action, this is the game for you! About The Game: This game is based on the classic shoot-em-up genre of games that date from the early 70's till the 80's. There are 8 levels, each with a specific objective that can be completed in a certain amount of time (depending on the level). The first objective is to reach the enemy base before the first 30 seconds has elapsed. The second objective is to reach the POW camp or death area before the 60 seconds have elapsed. The third objective is to destroy enemy tanks before they reach the last POW area (or death area). The fourth objective is to destroy all enemy units in the area of an enemy submarine attack. The fifth objective is to defend the mine using your ship until it is full of mines and then destroy the submarine that tries to reach it and maybe a few of the mines with it... The sixth objective is to destroy the enemy base. The seventh objective is to hit all of the weapon targets before all of the enemy units have died out. The eighth objective is to get all of the POWs back to you before the time expires. This is more of a test of your skills and reflexes than a real game though, so if you like old arcade style games, then you will likely have fun with this game! ================ CREDITS: Game and Art Engine are both by Rezalan Studios. Original Soundtrack is by Robert San Souci. ================ All funding made through itch.io. Huge thanks to everyone who made the game possible! Thank you for all the support, and just because I don't agree with your political views, doesn't mean I hate you. If you ever want to talk politics or any other subject, I am here to listen, and will even engage the discussion with you if you want to. ================ IMPORTANT NOTE ABOUT GAME MODS! The game can be played as a single player only right now, since I haven't had time to create a multi-player mode for the game yet. If you want to run a server c9d1549cdd

Victory Conditions: Significant Victory Conditions:The game will end in 50 turns (5 orbits) Minor Victory Conditions: The game will end in 25 turns (2 orbits) Game Mode: AI: Customizable, Player Friendly Difficulty: Variety of Top and Bottom End Turn Cap: 10,000,000 Credits Eventual Victory: The game has 1 or more victory conditions at the end. Minor Faction options and additional Minor Factions are included with the DLC. Note: You will need Sins of a Solar Empire: Rebellion to play this DLC. It was designed for Sins of a Solar Empire: Rebellion and does not function on its own. You can get Sins of a Solar Empire: Rebellion from the main Steam store. This is a great little dlc that adds some neat new functionality to Sins of a Solar Empire. Honestly, I would have liked an expansion that also made the factions a little more unique and original. It's like they took the ingredients from the good little expansion, the expansion Sins of a Space Marine, and mixed them into a small box... a delicious little box that makes you ask yourself "what would happen if I just mixed all these good little ingredients together?", only to be disappointed with the outcome. Thats what you're getting with this DLC... a nice little collection of small improvements and additions that might actually put the focus back on what makes Sins so great instead of on just packing all the features in one box. But I'm talking about the main attraction here, the minor factions. The ones that add a fun dynamic to the game. Granted, the minor factions are largely the same as what was added in the expansion, but all of them give the game a really interesting dynamic that you'd be hard pressed to find in any other interstellar strategy game out there. It adds a whole new layer to the player's game plan when trying to enter a neighboring empire's territory. Normally, you want to just attack and try to gain access to the gates. Or, if you are lucky enough to do so, just wait out the first few turns and hope that your best diplomacy result doesn't put you in a position that makes it worth it for them to concede, which means they probably won't retaliate. But this time, you know that they won't let you into the neighboring territory unless they feel that it's okay for you to be there. And you also know that they are very likely to fight back
